In a time long ago, Jesus and His disciples gathered in a room with walls full of stories, to share a meal unlike any other. This meal, known as The Last Supper, was a special time of unity and love. As they sat together, Jesus knew this was the last meal He would share with His friends before His journey to the cross.

During the supper, Jesus took bread, gave thanks, and broke it, giving it to His disciples. "This is my body, given for you; do this in remembrance of me," He said. Then, He took a cup of wine, sharing it with them, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you." These actions laid the foundation for what Christians now celebrate as the Lord's Supper.

But amidst the closeness, there was a shadow of betrayal. Jesus shared that one among them, Judas Iscariot, would betray Him. This news saddened everyone, as betrayal within a circle of friends was unthinkable.

Despite the impending betrayal, Jesus showed love and forgiveness, even washing the feet of His disciples, teaching them about serving others. The Last Supper reminds us of Jesus's sacrifice, the importance of community, and the call to remember Him through the Lord's Supper.
